Armic and Edna Adams

Xenia Schools and Community Contributors

2014

For decades, the Adams family has been deeply involved in the academic and athletic success of Xenia Community Schools. Armic was a long time educator and administrator with the Xenia school system. The Adams family has enhanced the schools through updating the equipment in the fitness center named after their son, All-American Doug Adams. They were also involved in the repairing of the superstructure at Cox Field as well as the purchasing of the digital message sign in front of XHS. Through these and other selfless examples of philanthropy, the community of Xenia and its schools are very appreciative.
